Bristol, Va., August 15.—The impression is now general here that a second postoffice for Bristol, one for the Virginia side of the city, has already been ordered. The inspectors, who were sent here from the department have returned. They admitted that they had been sent here, one to lay out the routes with reference to a division of the rural delivery between two post-offices, and the other to find a suitable building in which to establish the new post-office. It is understood that G. E. Goodell will be the postmaster on the Virginia side. Many protests thave gone to Washinston against this plan, but the impression now is that nothing can happen to change it.
